Part A.

Question 1

C 1. M: In the past, students often cheated by copying online materials. However, this was easy to check. Universities could use software to make sure students' work wasn't copied. Now, however, students are paying ghostwriters to write their papers for them. To fight this, we need new software. Our tool checks students' papers against their previous samples. If it finds too many differences in sentence patterns and style, this suggests the student didn't write their own paper.

Q: Which online ad is promoting the speaker's company's software? (Unit 11)

Part B

B 2. My watch can track my heart rate with this feature. (Unit 9)

(A) I didn't think it possible to control your heart!

(B) That seems useful for monitoring your health!

(C) No, thanks. I'm not looking to buy a watch.

(D) I hope you can get the new heart you need.

C 3. I saw Charlie the other day, and he gave me a compliment. (Unit 6)

(A) That's too bad. How are you going to get rid of it now?

(B) How rude. Charlie should learn to keep his mouth shut.

(C) How nice. Charlie is always pointing out people's positive features.

(D) That's sweet. What kind of gift did he give you?

A 4. Did you hear that someone tried to assassinate the president? (Unit 15)

W: I'm not sure if I'll be ready physically.
Q: What might the woman mean? (Unit 1)
(A) She has to ask her parents for permission.
(B) She may not play because she's emotionally stressed.
(C) She has an injury that is bothering her.
(D) She doesn't enjoy soccer as much as before.

Part D

In part D, you will hear one passage. Choose the best answers to those questions.

W: Welcome, everyone! So glad you could come today. I'm going to teach you about indoor gardening. Houseplants are known to be great for your mood and your home's atmosphere, but you can grow plants for more practical uses, too. I've got some herbs here like basil, rosemary, and mint that I cook with. To grow these, first consider where in your home they'll be. If you have a space with natural light, that's ideal, but you can also use a grow light, a special kind of light for indoor gardening. Also, think about the temperature and humidity of your home. You can grow these even in winter if you keep them warm enough! Next, let's come over here and look at soil. (Unit 13)

- C 9. Where is this talk likely happening?
(A) In a home design class.
(B) In a plant science course.
(C) At an indoor garden workshop.
(D) At a home cooking class.
- D 10. What does the speaker say about light for growing plants?
(A) Plants need more light to grow in winter.
(B) Light is less important than temperature.
(C) Most indoor plants don't get enough sun.
(D) A special lamp can be used in place of sunlight.
