Part 4: Short Talk Questions

Listen to the following paragraph and answer the questions.

Plastic has become a huge environmental problem. Considering the negative effects of plastic pollution, some places have started to ban single-use plastic. However, according to recent reports, plastic bans may do more harm than good. With plastic no longer an option, many turn to disposable paper products. Paper is much better for the environment after it's thrown away, but producing it in the first place uses more energy and water than making plastic does. A study from Denmark found that you would have to use a cotton bag thousands of times before it would be more environmentally friendly than plastic to produce. In short, the basic guideline is to reduce and reuse. Make good use of what you already have rather than making more purchases in an attempt to be "green."

(B) 9. Why could plastic bans do more harm than good?

- (A) People won't listen and will use even more plastic than before.
- (B) They could lead to an increase in paper products.
- (C) People will end up buying more non-recyclable items.
- (D) They could urge people to throw away their plastic products.

(D) 10. When does paper harm the environment, according to the passage?

- (A) When it's being reused.
- (B) When it's being recycled.
- (C) When it's thrown away.
- (D) When it's being produced.
